Jesse Biggs of the Northern Iowa Panthers looks to pass the ball and lead her team into the Women's NCAA tournament. The Panther women take on Wichita State and Southwest Missouri State to finish the regular season. The Panthers start out the Conference Tournament against Evansville at 8:30 pm on Thursday March 10.

Grant Stout, who averages 11.1 points and 7.7 rebounds a game, also looks to help his team advance to the NCAA tournament. However it will not be an easy task as the Missouri Valley Conference is very tough. The Panthers first opponent in the tournament is the Southwest Missouri State.

The Panther men finished the regular season with an 11-7 record in the Missouri Valley and a 21-9 record overall.
